WORLDWIDE DISASTER RELIEF

HEALING, FAR FROM HOME

Through the HaMakom project in Dharamshala, India, expat Israelis find familiar refuge, and connection to home.

Nearly two years after October 7, thousands of young Israelis have left Israel, to find refuge in India. Seeking distance, peace of mind, and natural beauty, many are adrift in a foreign place, missing home, family and meaningful support.

NATAN and the HaMakom Association have created a unique, Israeli-led support center in Dharamshala, India, to provide trauma-informed, emotional "first aid" to travelers, through informal conversations, resilience-building workshops and group activities like movement, music and art.

Our goal is to reduce the risks of isolation and substance misuse, via harm-reduction strategies that can include remotely connecting young people to therapists in Israel. To date, 2000+ Israelis have participated in HaMakom project, building community and connection, far from home.
